Five judges of a supreme court founded this week are expected to sober up student activities, John Eastman, student body president, announced at the student commission meeting Tuesday.

The court will deal with any students who get out of line at games, dances, and social activities sponsored by Salinas J.C., the student body president said.

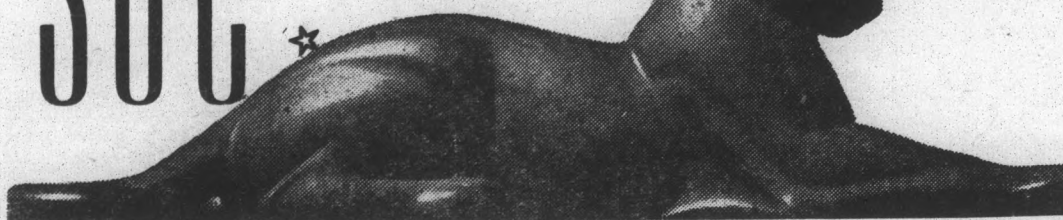

The new court has the power to recommend expulsion without probation, or a recommendation of expulsion with a six weeks' probationary period. Recommendations will be made to President John B. Lemos who will review the court decisions.

John Kelly, Salinas sophomore, and active in the Westminster Club, has been appointed as chief justice by Eastman. Associate justices appointed are: James Mehl, Watsonville; Charles Bem, Santa Cruz; Louis Scolari, Gilroy; and Victor Ferrante, Monterey. Janice Lund will be clerk and keep minutes of all proceedings.

Students placed on probation and found guilty of a second offense will be recommended for dismissal. After conviction and dismissal from college, the student's only appeal is to the board of trustees.

Formation of the court was

Parade and Game In Celebration Of Armistice Day

Armistice Day, Tuesday, November 11, will be observed at S.J.C. with a legal school holiday and a big football game against Hollister J.C. in the evening.

No classes will be held during the day, but activities will begin with a parade scheduled for 7 p.m. which will start at the corner of Central Avenue and Main Street and arrive at the Salinas stadium at 7:40 o'clock.

The marching units consist of a Fort Ord army band, army marching units, American Legion Post No. 31 drum and bugle corps, American Legion veterans marching units, Ladies' Auxiliary drill team, national guard, Sacred Heart groups, and the junior college band. Hollister veterans groups are being invited to march, too.

The football game will be ad-

Queen Election Today

Fourteen beauty nominees of the various college clubs will vie before the student body at a special assembly, at 11 o'clock, today. A general election is being held to select the five candidates for the runoff for Queen of Homecoming and her attendants.

Homecoming Day is really developing into a monster affair at S.J.C., and Alpha Gamma Sigma had to obtain more assistance. On the executive committee are: Tony Mercante, John Eastman, Mary Anderson, Paul Jones, Barbara Timmins, Loren Ingols, Ada Bassi. Doctor Luella Hall and Mr. Clifford Swanson are the faculty advisors.

Alumni Group Holds Meeting To Discuss Dinner

The Alumni Association of Salinas Junior College held a board of directors' meeting at the college last Friday night to discuss the annual Homecoming Dinner. Attending the meeting were the following members: Willard Branson, Gloria Bencich, Floyd Mike, Ralph Thompson, Joan Woodward, Ada Bassi.

Business of the day took place after the board members first feasted themselves upon the sumptuous Men's Club Field Day dinner.

Willard Branson and Ralph Thompson were appointed to look into the time and place to hold the Homecoming dinner. Discussion was made in regards to an alumni scholarship, and Ralph Thompson was appointed as a temporary committee.

Membership of the association to date has been growing with a

Pajamarino In Gym Tonight

"Everyone who comes to the Pajamarino dance tonight must be wearing sleeping attire or they will not be admitted," states Don Mitts, general chairman of the dance sponsored by the Freshman class. Prizes will be awarded for outstanding night-wear.

A bonfire rally will precede the dance at 8 o'clock outside the men's gym. After the fire, students and their guests may enter the gym for dancing to Tony Vyeda's orchestra, at a cost of $1.10 per couple, or 75 cents stag.

The rally committee is sponsoring a carnival which will be held in the gym while the dance is in progress. Concessions of cokes and hot dogs, dart-board games, goldfish chances, and nail driving may be enjoyed during the evening. The dance will be over at 12 o'clock.

Phil Cordrey heads the committee in charge of carnival activities, while Don Mitts is in charge of the dance. Assisting the chairmen are Chickie Bremis, Mary Marinovich, Roger Garland, Virginia Brown, and Anne Banavac.

Never did the counter in the office of Salinas J.C. offer such an attraction as it does here. Queen candidates for the big Homecoming Day celebration made photographer Pat Smythe's job a pleasant one with this impressive display of pulchritude. Left to right, we have Honey Harris, Bernice Summers, Muriel Shutler, Geneva Bottian, Margaret Melrose, Mary

"TRINE" STOP ME!

By PHIL TRINE

"There just ain't no justice."

Here I was all prepared to cover (and very thoroughly) the story on the various clubs' nominees for Queen of Homecoming Day. Seems they don't trust me interviewing women.

Wonder how Ruth McDill liked her dunk in the mudhole last Friday. Betcha' it didn't do her blonde locks any appreciable good. Can't say the men aren't gentlemanly, though. At least, they dropped her into the "black sea of mud" with a minimum of hesitation. Had not Mr. Eris come to the rescue, it is very probable Miss McDill would have had some feminine company.

Every year, about this time, a group of gals go through the rigors of being pledges for one of the Salinas sororities. We can't say the omission of make-up does wonders. There isn't a much sorrier looking lot on the campus. If anyone ever tries to tell you "cosmetics don't work magic," tell them "we have proof positive."

The Men's Club, among other things, showed that the school has numerous vocalists. Well, anyway, people who are not afraid to loosen their vocal cords in front of an assemblage of students.

We are curious to know whether Coach Bob Robinett visited another insane asylum. Seems his team strolled about the peaceful Stockton Sanitarium before they downed the Stockton eleven in their first conference clash.

"School spirit" has taken quite a beating in recent years. But we'd like to cite one individual for his humorous capers for the alma mater. He's none other than Donovan MacDonald. Riding a mountain canary one week and playing the role of a prospective queen the next calls for the maximum of school spirit.

Who said, "thirteen is unlucky." Maybe they haven't discovered the 13 candidates for the Salinas Junior College Homecoming Queen. Despite the fact they wouldn't allow me to handle the facts and figures on the beauties, I managed to play the "peeping Tom" role while the pictures were being taken. My only problem is trying to choose the best five. Ah, well, I'm still "Hot to go."

QUEEN . . .

gram, bonfire rally, open house, coronation of queen, parade downtown, football game, and student body dance are some of the offerings of this gala event. Perpetual trophy will be awarded at halftime of the Menlo game to the club having the best decorated float, by the queen.

Station KSBW, Salinas, will put on the Homecoming program November 19, at 6:30 p.m. Mr. Lorell McCann's string ensemble will play, and John Eastman, A.S.B. president, will outline a brief history of S.J.C. Songs will be offered by the college mixed chorus, and Coach Robinett will express his thoughts of our football team.

COURT . . .

said to result from half-time activities at the last football game and improper conduct at the dance following the game.

President Eastman said that the commission and college President Lemos came to an agreement earlier in the year that "when the bridge of alcohol had to be crossed, the commission would set up a court instead of having Mr. Lemos hold his annual assembly on drinking."

Last year, when similar occurrences took place, a plain clothes officer was placed at the door checking the whole student body and their friends for sobriety, Eastman said.

"This year, we are not going to try to punish the whole student body for the acts of a few," the student body president said.

Discussing a young couple who had married and left their small town, a woman inquired of a mutual friend whether the girl had made a good wife.

"I don't know about that," was the answer, "but she's certainly making him a good husband."

PARKER'S PARAGRAPHS

By JERRY PARKER

MURDER, HE SEZ . . .

The usual tranquility of the J.C. corridors was interrupted last week by a brutal robbery and murder. Employees and patrons of the cafeteria were held at gunpoint while a trio of hoodlums rifled the cash register and made a getaway down the hall.

The only person who could have positively identified the hold-up men was chased up onto the roof where he was cold-bloodedly shot to death, and his body carted boldly down the main internal thoroughfare of the college. Bystanders were helpless to interfere lest they, too, fall victim to the villainous murderers.

Due to heroic efforts of the Panther police patrol, one suspect was apprehended, and immediately lodged in the Jaysee Hoosgow . . . incommunicado. The suspect, Myhobby S. Bumpinoff, alias Ed (Killer) Pierson, refuses to put the finger on his accomplices. Since there is no proof of murder (corpus delicti), the prisoner is being held in a technical charge of disturbing the peace.

SMILES, AND WHY NOT?

Maybe you've wondered why so many of the menfolk around the place are wearing such large grins. The mystery has now been solved. It seems that Uncle Samuel and his G.I. William have come through with flying colors; the colors being long and green, and in the shape of government checks (some of which are for TWO months, yet) . . .

HUBBA, HUBBA . . .

Once in the career of every journalistic aspirant, there comes what is commonly called a break. I got mine this week when I was on hand for the photographing of the Homecoming Queen candidates.

Of course, the flashbulb boys, Ed Frayne of the Salinas Californian and Pat Smythe of The Panther Sentinel, got closer than I did, but it looked good from where I stood, just the same!

Naturally, quite a crowd gathered to witness the proceedings, and, also naturally, it was composed almost entirely of male on-lookers . . . C'mon, fellas, put those eyeballs back in their sockets,

When the girls went out on the lawn for some outdoor shots, the sun came out from behind a cloud to see what was going on, and even the gophers came out of their holes for a quick glimpse.

The statistics of the candidates, along with their photos, are appearing in another section of this edition, but the phone numbers, gathered by members of The Sentinel staff, are now locked in our top-secret file, and the key? . . . Wouldn't you like to know?

John or Jim?

John Cavanah was elected last year to represent his class on the student commission of Salinas Junior College.

John Cavanah Represents Sophomores

In Watsonville, California, on August 25, 1928, a half hour before his brother, Jim, was born, John Cavanah first saw the light of day. Ever since that day, the Cavanah boys have rarely been separated.

Sophomore commissioner, John is a student in the business administration department and he plans to graduate from J.C. next June. His plans for the future include more schooling at San Jose State.

John's hobbies are sports, and confusing people by his similarity to his brother. He plans to be a business manager.

His position as representative of the Sophomore class makes him an important member of the commission. Fellow commissioners have nicknamed him "Silent Cal" because of the part he plays at all commission meetings.

Stanford-S.J.C. To Hold Debate

Salinas Junior College students will be privileged to sit in on a debate between the Stanford Freshman debating squad and a team from S.J.C., composed of Clarence Brown from Salinas and Ray Marnach of Watsonville, on November 17. The question for debate will be socialized medicine with the Salinas team taking the negative side of the question.

The debate will be held at 3 o'clock with the location being given at a later date.

A luncheon for the teams will be held previous to the debate.

FIELD DAY HUGE SUCCESS

Annual Field Day activities proved to be a success again this year as all the gals and boys enjoyed themselves last Friday by taking part in many activities throughout the afternoon.

The volleyball game finally ended in a 1-to-1 tie, with both teams tired out from the effort put forth.

The Sophs defeated the Freshmen in the softball game by the score of 18 to 9. Many potential sluggers were discovered among the many contestants that took part in the game.

Football results show that the Sophs defeated the Frosh by the score of 10 to 0. Several fine plays were displayed with the Sophs having the upper hand throughout the game.

In the tug-o-war, the Sophs finally proved themselves to be the best team by trouncing the Freshmen.

The mud brawl was the final activity before the Men's Club dinner. People were throwing each other into the mudhole, so that just about every person participating had to take a good shower to get all the mud off.

The Men's Club dinner was a huge success, with a large crowd turning out. Singing and other stunts highlighted the dinner, with everyone enjoying themselves.

The board members finished the evening successfully by seeing the Panther team victorious in one of their closest grid contests, and by attending the after-game dance. Members will meet today to hear the committee's reports.

Panthers Tackle Champions

Resuming conference play after a week layoff, the Salinas Junior College Panthers meet the league leading San Francisco Rams in what promises to be a titanic aerial duel next Friday afternoon in the George Washington High School Stadium.

INJURY PROBLEM

Coach Bob Robinett's worries are primarily confined to his injury problem. Richard Ryder, Roy Williams, and Tommy Thompson may not see much action in the remaining Panther games. All three were injured in the San Mateo fracas last week.

With Al Garner, Doyle Burnett, and Rich Rampone still recuperating from early season ailments, the locals' chances of an upset victory have been dimmed.

TWITCHELL LEADS PUNTERS

The brunt of the burden falls on the able right leg of Clarence Twitchell. Twitchell's booming spirals have meant a great deal in recent contests. Heralded as the best punter in the conference, Twitchell is currently leading the field in that department.

With Burnett expected to be in tip-top condition, the Panthers' passing game should show improvement. Burnett was fast becoming one of the league's most accurate throwers, until he sustained a head injury in the Sacramento battle.

San Francisco lost its only conference battle to the strong Vallejo Indians, 13-7, early in the season. The Rams are defending champions and with a victory over the Panthers they stand a good chance of repeating.

Hollister-Salinas Grid Battle Ends Armistice Day Celebration

Armistice Day celebration will be climaxed Tuesday night with a game between the Panthers and the Hollister Ramblers eleven.

The kickoff will take place at 8 p.m., with many activities being planned between the kickoff and the final quarter.

The Ramblers have a team composed of many potential stars and many players that have already proved themselves in former years.

Jim Bidagary, a left half who weighs a mere 165 pounds, is a fleet-footed back that can gain plenty of yardage once he is in the open.

Gene Flores, who has the right half assignment, is one of the best blockers in the vicinity, and he is a very capable kicker. Gene isn't too heavy, weighing only 144 pounds.

Playing the fullback position is Milton Mota who weighs 155 pounds and is a passer who can consistently hit his receivers.

Peter Gomez plays the quarterback position and is one of the best play callers in the Hollister section.

Hollister has such standouts in the line as Ed Stanghor, who plays center. Ed is considered a good passer and rough on defense.

Al Renz plays right end, and catches the ball from all angles. On defense, Al busts up many plays by his steady charging of the opposing backs.

Salinas will, in all events, rely on the reserves. Robinett doesn't want any more injuries before the final two conference contests with San Francisco and Menlo. Still suffering ill effects from the last two rough and tumble affairs, the Panthers would lose any remote possibility of coping another conference tilt if they sustained added battle scars.

The starting line-ups:

Hollister—		Salinas—
Tranberg	LER	Franci
Burkhart	LTR	C. Garnero

Stanghor	C	Ryder
Leyva	RGL	Rampone

"Will it hurt the car," she asked, "if I drive it home with the gas tank empty?"

You can't tell. Maybe a fish goes home and lies about the size of the bait that got away.

She: "Say you love me . . . say it."

He: "You love me."

Engineers, Sandabs Draw

Intramural volleyball got off to a rousing start with the Santa Cruz Sandabs and the Engineers battling to a draw in the initial series of the season.

The Sandabs, defending champions from last year, after trailing most of the first contest, outlasted the Engineers by a 15-13 count. Sammy Garcia and Bob Lyons were instrumental in turning the tide for the Santa Cruzans.

Holding grimly to their advantage, the Engineers staved off a Sandab rally to even up the series with a 15-13 victory. Time halted the proceedings, with the playoff scheduled to take place at the conclusion of the regular schedule. Jack Holt was the standout performer for the Engineers.

Jim Blinkenberg's Skyscrapers, minus two men, downed Paul Schwabe's sextet in a brief two-game match. The Skyscrapers, led by Jerry Hoagland and Ray Marnach, proved too much for the smaller and less experienced Schwabe crew.

Smith Wins Distance Race

Ross Smith, former Salinas Junior College distance runner, captured cross country laurels at a recent University of Nevada Homecoming Day event.

Smith, always a good conditioner, has blossomed into an able runner despite his slight stature. Not the best distance man in the N.C.J.C. Conference, he made up what he lacked in ability with determination.

Last Minute Score Saves Game For Salinas

In one of the most thrilling endings ever witnessed in Salinas stadium, the Salinas J.C. Panthers turned almost certain loss into a brilliant victory as they downed the San Mateo Bulldogs, 12-7, in last Friday's conference encounter.

Just when it appeared that the locals were going to drop another heartbreaker, quarterback Charlie Mornard calmly tossed a six-point bundle of joy into the waiting arms of Clarence Twitchell to win a hard-fought battle from the visitors and that ever-present clock.

45-YARD MARCH

The scoring play was a result of a 45-yard march which started with less than three minutes remaining in the game and was covered in seven plays. After letting a San Mateo punt roll dead on the invaders' 45-yard line, Mornard immediately proceeded to hit Jim Morrison with a nifty lead pass that carried the pigskin to the S.M. 20. Twitchell was thrown for a one-yard loss but Morrison retaliated for a plus six on his reliable end-around play on the next play.

Keeping with their razzle dazzle type of play, Mornard then threw to Doyle Burnett, a hard runner all night, who lateraled to Roy Parker who carried to the 11. From here, Mornard once more unlimbered his right arm and completed his third straight toss, this time to Burnett for a first down on the 5. With the time just about exhausted Twitchell raced around end to the 3. From here, the Mornard-Twitchell combination thrilled the Salinas gathering with the game-winning score. Chet Garner's place kick was just inches wide, but nobody seemed concerned.

The first quarter found the locals starting as if they meant business and with the ball game only eight minutes old, the Panthers reached paydirt when Russ Bohlke smashed his way through center for 14 yards and a T.D. Richard Rampone paved the way for the marker when he recovered a San Mateo fumble on the S.M. 22-yard stripe.

BOHLKE RAMS ACROSS

Burnett quickly drove to the 14 but sustained a recurrence of the head injury he received in the Sacramento tilt and was forced to leave the game. Russ Bohlke wasted no time as he ate up the remaining yardage for the game's initial score. Chet Garner's attempted conversion was blocked.

The remainder of the first half and third quarter found no scoring and very few serious threats but Bob Ratcliffe, speedy Bulldog halfback, kept the fans on the edges of their seats with his ground-gaining end runs.

TWITCHELL PUNTS

Nearing the end of the third period, Twitchell kicked to the Salinas 35 from where the invaders started a drive that resulted in their lone score. Ratcliffe and fullback Alden May alternated to bring the ball downfield to the 3 from where May plunged into the end zone to tie up the ball game. Faking a place-kick, Duane Chaney passed to Ratcliffe for the extra point which up until the final 15 seconds appeared to be the winning point.

After Salinas' dramatic game-winning tally, the Bulldogs tried two desperate passes which were unsuccessful and the Panthers, amid a large group of admiring students, alumni, and faculty, left the field with their second conference win tucked away safely—two more than they picked up last season.

Twitchell turned in another outstanding performance as per usual and kept the Bulldogs back on their heels with booming punts which averaged 39 yards for seven tries, one of which was a 45-yard beauty that rolled dead on the San Mateo 5.
